“A Broken Heart Needs Healing”

Have you ever pondered the weight of the broken heart Jesus must have felt? It could be argued that His willingness to live and die as one of us and more importantly His willingness to accept the death we deserved was an act of healing a broken heart.

The heart of God was broken when we fell from grace. Our sins are willing choices to pursue death over life and yet the very essence of God is life. The only real way to heal His broken heart was to accept our death and offer us new life in and through Himself. There is no vindication, rather only love, mercy and grace. God could not imagine living life for all of eternity in brokenness and so He accepted the unthinkable price to heal His heart and ours.

The past two years have brought about a lot of brokenness in peoples lives, relationships and even the church. We all have choices to make and I would pray that we would all make a choice to heal. Heal our hearts, our minds, our relationships with one another, and most importantly our relationship with God.

As we journey through the continuation of this Paschal season, let us follow the example of Jesus our suffering Savior who gave all that He had so that we might have a part in Him. Let us offer ourselves as a living sacrifice to Jesus and may our sacrifice bring healing to our hearts just as His eternal sacrifice brought healing to all of creation.

Peace and Blessings,

“On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, “Peace be with you.” When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again, “Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you.” And when he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, “Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained.””
 (John 20:19-23)
